Letters to the Editor

Volunteers needed: John Edwards and I have worked on the telephone kiosk opposite the SSJ shop for several years. The front has been reglazed and the paintwork kept in order. For various reasons John and I would like to pass the job on to other enthusiastic villagers. It would require at least two volunteers. John and I have the paint etc. to pass on.

Margaret Larby and John Edwards (850507)

Editor's note: In Monksilver in Somerset we saw a phone box being used as a book exchange. Shelves had been erected inside the box and filled with donated books for people to borrow and return afterwards – it struck us as an excellent idea

SSJ Village Market dates for 2015

Church Matters May

Last month we held the church's annual meeting, or, to give it its proper title, the Annual Parochial Church Meeting. It was my 27th APCM in The Sherbornes with Pamber and a very different scene from the early days. When we arrived here in 1988 I didn't expect to stay this long but it is a real joy to be here. And indeed my incredible longevity in the post (!) seems to be attracting attention. I have been asked to run a seminar at a ministers' conference this month. They would like the talk to be called "I'm still here"!!

Reflecting on this I have so far identified five issues that arise in a long stay. The first is becoming settled in your comfort zone. We all know what this is like, we carry on doing the same things we are familiar with and have done many times. As we become increasingly comfortable with them the desire to launch out in new ways or into different areas diminishes. We want to stick with what we know.

The second danger of a long stay is a lack of ideas. After a long time in any job you naturally tend to run out of new ideas. For example, thinking of new events to run which will draw people along, both members of our fellowship and those who we hope are 'on the way'. At this stage other people need to have the ideas! I was delighted to see others both originating the idea and theme of a recent music evening, taking on responsibility for the organisation of the event and carrying it through to completion, without my doing anything!

Thirdly, and this relates to the first, the danger of ceasing to change things. In the early days there was a lot of change. Various experiments were tried. We began to get used to the idea that change was normal. But in recent years, I will admit, there hasn't been quite the same eagerness to make changes. However it would be a mistake to imagine there is no need for change now. We must remember that the Gospel is about changing lives and changed lives mean a changing church life.

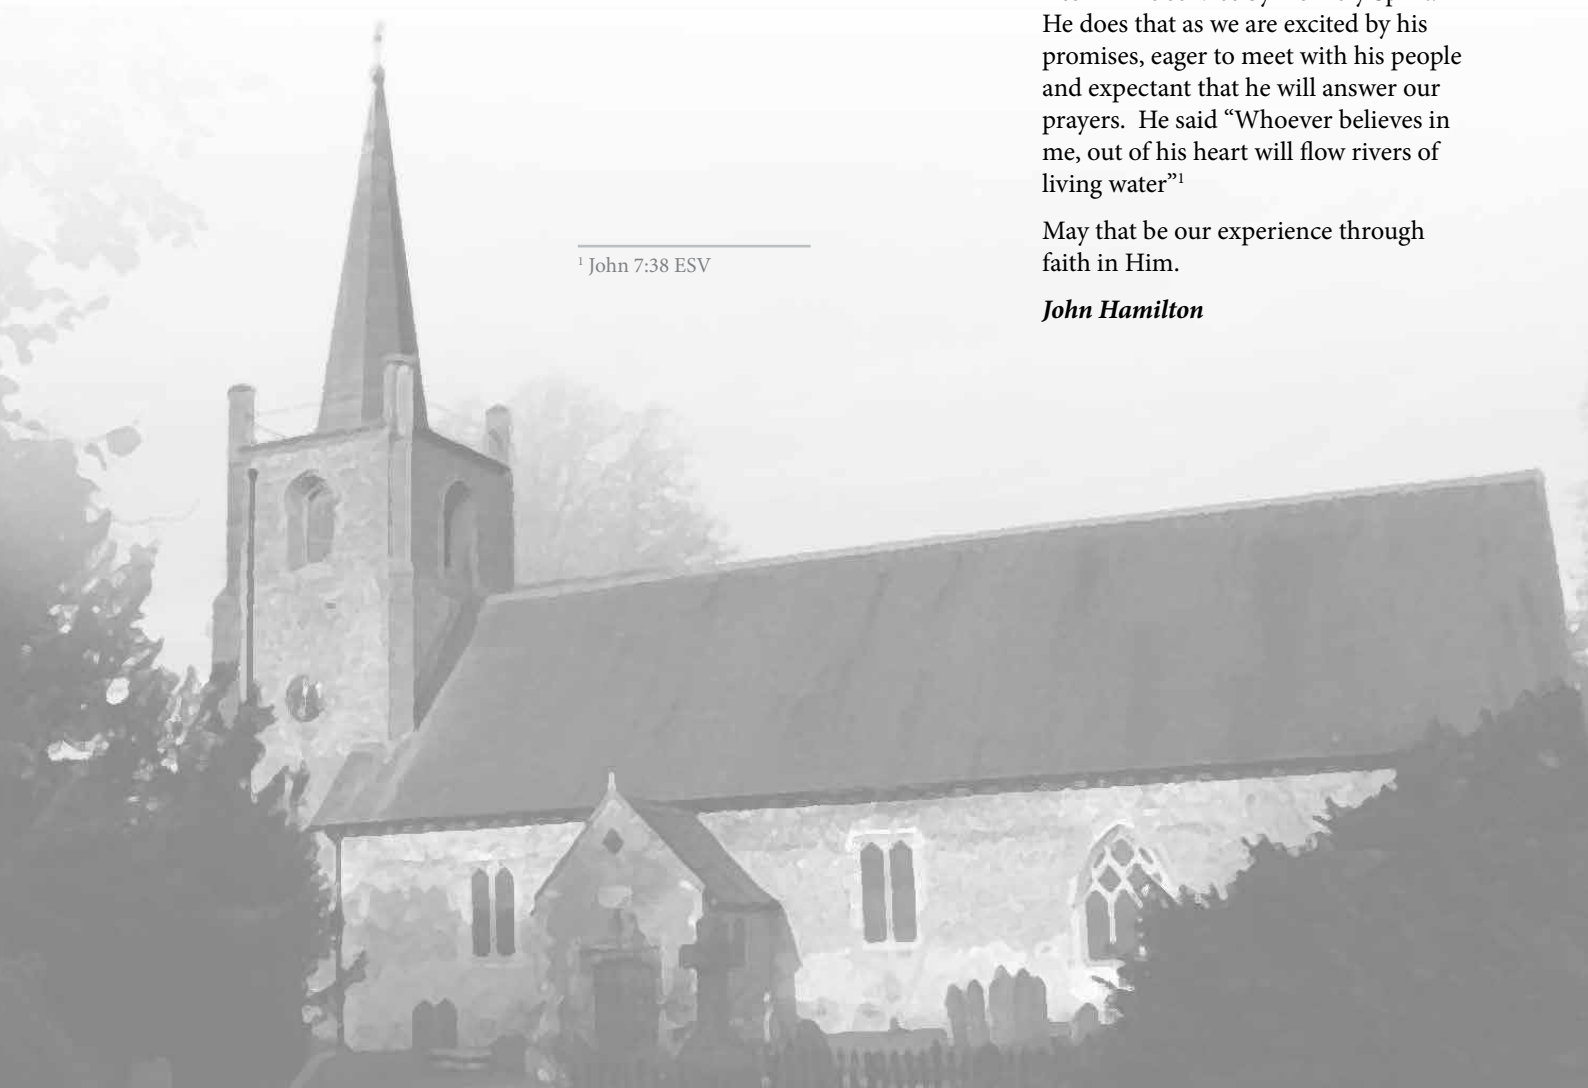

The fourth is an insidious longing for retirement! Now it isn't surprising that some people long for retirement, this isn't wrong, and these days many people retire in their fifties! We are told how wonderful it is and how various pension arrangements can make it possible. I once heard a clergyman say "My employment is my enjoyment" and I agree with him! I can tell you, honestly, that I am not longing for retirement – there is too much to give up. Retirement has to come eventually of course, but thankfully not yet.

And the final issue that arises in a long stay? – keeping fresh in the work. Ministry can become stale – just turning the wheels. One thing that makes a huge difference is having colleagues who are keen. Over the last 20 years or so I have been privileged to have a steady stream of younger colleagues. Sharing the work with them has been a major stimulus to maintaining my own enthusiasm and I am grateful to them. Above all the glory goes to the Lord Jesus Christ. He promised to keep us fresh in his service by his Holy Spirit. He does that as we are excited by his promises, eager to meet with his people and expectant that he will answer our prayers. He said "Whoever believes in me, out of his heart will flow rivers of living water"¹

May that be our experience through faith in Him.

Bus Services – News

ROUTE 2

Whilst I have seen nothing official yet I was informed last week that when the present phase of roadworks on the A340 near the hospital is completed route 2 will NOT go into the hospital grounds but will be diverted on to the service road from just before St Michael's Hospice down to Bilton Road, presumably using the existing bus stops just below the hospital main entrance. It is quite steep uphill walking to the entrance and will be hard for passengers with walking difficulties, also the walking distance to the Hospice and Rookdown will be increased. Other services will not be diverted. I will try to get a meeting to discuss the issues.

The service seems to have been quite reliable of late although on 2nd April the 15.45 to town overshot Cranes Road and operated through Elm Road in the wrong direction. At the hospital 18 passengers boarded, there is insufficient room at the service road stop to accommodate so many waiting.

B & D B C have advised that the usage of the various late journeys has been encouraging and the trial is extended to 29 August.

COMMUNITY BUS 58

The twice weekly service to Chineham has proved popular with S S J users but only a few join from Tadley and virtually none from Popley. The initial trial period agreed by our Parish Council ends in mid-May, I am hopeful that when the P C meets on 27th April that the service will be allowed to continue.

Spring into Summer 2015 – Several Dry Months!

Following on from a wet October, November 2014 was also very wet with 17 days recording more than 1mm of rain; this resulted in a mild month with temperatures well above the monthly average and very few frosts but, also, not much sunshine and no spells of really dense fog. December was better with less rain and more sunshine, but temperatures were maintained near the average due to the predominantly southwesterly winds. From Christmas to the end of the month pressure rose to 1039mb (30.29ins) with clear nights leading to severe frosts on the 29th, 30th and 31st (air temperatures down to -6C and grass temperatures down to below -8C).

January 2015 was another mainly cloudy month but with several days of heavy rain, especially the 12th and thunderstorms on the 14th; total rainfall was 91.2mm. Due to the predominance of cloud and frequency of rain the monthly temperature was overall slightly above average, but night minimum air temperatures fell to below -7C (20F) on the 20th and 23rd.

February was rather cold with 15 mornings with air frost (the 30-year average is 12) and 21 mornings with grass frost (average 17). There were several very sunny days – 17th, 18th (10.7C), 21st, 25th (13.1C) and 28th. Most of the month's rain fell on only 3 days (13th, 19th and 22nd) and the total was below the average, temperatures were also a little below average.

March 2015 was a very dry month (of concern to the farmers) with only 25.5mm (1 inch) of rain – less than half the average, with no rain from the 2nd to the 14th and again from the 17th to the 23rd. There were good sunshine totals at the beginning of the month and again for the last week, resulting in many warm days (for March); the average daytime maximum temperature for March is 9.7C (49.5F) but we had 23 days with maximum temperatures above this – so it was a warm month.

April has started exceptionally warm and sunny, a little rain on the first 3 days but becoming very warm with temperatures reaching 21C (70F) on the 10th. There was very poor air quality on the 8th and 9th due to pollution from mainland Europe.

Every year billions of tons of Saharan dust are transported across the Atlantic Ocean on the prevailing winds and is then washed out of the atmosphere by the rains in the Amazon basin. On 10th April the Met Office warned of Saharan dust over the UK, so I washed part of the car (a rare event) and, sure enough, between 11.40 and 11.50am there was a spattering of large raindrops. When allowed to dry it showed that every droplet contained significant dust in suspension.

On a completely different subject – I found a dead male blackbird in my garden at 6.15pm on Monday 6th April; it was still warm to the touch. I could see no injury, the wings were in good condition, a few of the tail feathers showed some wear and it was quite plump (probably because it had made good use of my bird table throughout the winter belligerently seeing off all competitors). It had a ring on its right leg, so I reported it to the British Trust for Ornithology (BTO). I had an email response 2 days later to say that the bird had been ringed on the 8th of March 2008 in Pamber Green when it was considered to be a bird in its second year – so it was probably coming up for its eighth birthday.

Monk Sherborne Parish Council

Well here we are, the winter has come and gone, largely without event - at least we should be thankful for that. As I write this report, just after Easter and I must say what a lovely time for those with gardens with the warmth of the sun. It has been most welcome!! Let us hope that this is a precursor for a warm summer, fingers crossed. Weather and seasons apart, let's move on.

A brief resume of the portfolio's starting with my portfolio planning as at our meeting held on 18th March 2015

Applications Received

1. T/00051/15/TCA – New Close, Ramsdell Road, Monk Sherborne
No Objection Granted

To fell 1 Metasequoia (Dawn Redwood).

2. 5/00669/HSE – Jonathons Thatch, Ramsdell Road, Monk Sherborne

Conversion and extension of existing garage to provide ancillary accommodation

Applications Waiting Decision

Land South of Shothanger Works, Shothanger Lane
No Objection

Request for screening opinion relating to proposed solar farm.

Planning Decisions

14/06293/HSE - The Rustlings, Ramsdell Road, Monk Sherborne
No Objection Granted

Erection of single storey rear extension to garage to form store/workshop

14/03592/HSE – Cherry Orchard, Ramsdell Rd, Monk Sherborne
No Objection Granted

Erection of a double storey front extension

Portfolio reports

Local Authority & Rural strategy – Cllr Boyle gave a verbal update following the BDBC Local Plan Examination advising that the council is to carry out further work on the plan and consult on any proposed changes prior to a public hearing scheduled for the autumn.

Village hall – Cllr Lord Hayter provided a verbal update to members of current work in hand for various improvements at the village hall. Work is being undertaken with regard to the renewal of the village hall lease. Legal advice is to be sought to ensure the village hall is protected accordingly.

Highways Transport and footpaths – A number of pot holes within the parish remain outstanding and are being chased. HCC have been alerted to the problem of water pooling on the footpath at the end of Kiln Lane. Details regarding changes in Concessionary Travel and the use of bus passes from 1st April 2015 were presented. The information is to be displayed on the parish website and noticeboards.

Playground – A number of repairs required at the play area have been identified and are due to be actioned as soon as possible. 2 replacement trees have been purchased and planted on the perimeter of the play area.

Rural Policing & Neighbourhood Watch – Information relating to changes within the local rural policing team was presented. PCSO Abbey Carpenter is to be asked to attend the Annual Parish Assembly in May.

Parish maintenance – Following a request from a local business, consideration has been given to the potential sponsorship of the various green spaces maintained within the parish.

Last but not least The Council would like to express their thanks to those in the parish who have volunteered their help with jobs small and large within our parish.

Next meeting is combined with the Annual Assembly Wednesday 20th May 2015

SHERBORNE ST JOHN PARISH COUNCIL

Neighbourhood Plan

120 of you attended the Consultation event in the Village Hall on Saturday 14th March, which not only displayed the results of the questionnaire, but also gave an opportunity for you to look at the options for a potential small development in the village and vote for your preferred option. All the information was then placed on the village website enabling more villagers to vote up to 17th April. Once we have the full results, this will assist in drafting the plan and further discussions with the developer of the preferred location will go ahead, to ensure the type of housing is in line with the village's preference (as established by the questionnaire).

Chute Pavilion improvements

The working group has been getting quotes for decorating the pavilion and replacing the floor, as well as for refencing and making repairs to the tennis courts. Next on the agenda is to get planning permission for the proposed new storage area. A meeting with the most regular users of the pavilion has taken place to discuss all the proposals. Unfortunately the very small window of time that is available over the summer (when the pre-school is not in term and there are no previously booked events) means that it will be unlikely that we will get the floor replacement done until Christmas, despite everybody's best efforts.

Allotments

If any villagers would be interested in taking over an allotment please contact the Parish Clerk, otherwise they will be offered to non-resident applicants.

Speedwatch

You may have already seen the speedwatch volunteers out on the roads with their equipment. They have already caught a large number of speeding drivers and you never know where or when they will be out, so keep your speed down or you may find you are in receipt of a letter from the police!

Rights of way

Thanks to the excellent report done by Mr Edwards and a subsequent visit from a Hampshire County Council officer, numerous pavements and footpaths should soon be repaired. Inevitably the budget is never sufficient to cover every problem, but it is a good start!

Buses

The new bus service to Chineham has been extremely well received; the only issue has been that when picking up people with mobility problems in Dancers Meadow, it does not have sufficient room to turn around.

Trees

You should all have noticed that the tree in the island outside the Post Office has now been replaced. The Council is now looking at replacing the trees that have died on Elm Road.

Village Party

This year's Village Party is scheduled to be held on 4th July this year on the village green.

Parish Council Elections 2015.

There will be no election in Pamber on 7th May as there were not sufficient candidates for an election. The election is therefore uncontested. There were five nominations for the five places in the north ward and three nominations for the five places in the south ward. The parish council may now fill the vacancies in the south ward by co-option. If you are interested in being co-opted, please contact the clerk immediately.

Cllr. Frank Mitchell

Frank has decided to retire from the council at this election after serving as a councillor for 40 years; for much of that time he was chairman. His 'voice of reason' and dedication to the well being of the parish will be greatly missed by everyone. As a token of appreciation and because of his love of gardening, he was presented with an inscribed stainless steel spade by members of the council. We all wish Frank a happy 'retirement' from his parish council duties.

The next meeting of Pamber Parish Council, which is the Annual Meeting, will be held at 7.00pm on Monday, 18th May 2015 in The Memorial Hall, Pamber Heath. This will be followed at 8pm by the Annual Parish Meeting. All parishioners are welcome to attend both meetings. Details of meetings are displayed on the notice boards and on the website www.pamber-pc.gov.uk

Probus hears from a Sherborne St John Old Sea Salt

Bryan Nagle, although Manchester born and bred has lived in Sherborne St John for many years as he had worked for Wycombe District Council as Chief Officer Environmental Health. His badminton and tennis days are now behind him but golf and being a member of the Jane Austen Society keep him and his wife Sheila busy in their retirement years. Since 1998 Bryan has been a member of the Probus Club of Basingstoke the social organisation for retired professional and business managers to which august body of men he gave an illustrated talk of his war time service in the Royal Navy.

Moving to the south he trained for thirteen months as an Electrical Engineering Rating at the Grand Hotel in Lyndhurst followed by operational service encompassing both the European and the Far East theatres of war. However the specific topic of his presentation was about his research that has uncovered the apparent lack of public recognition in this country, but not in the USA, of the major role played by the LST (Landing Ship, Tank) in both Europe and the Pacific. Bryan was Petty Officer (Electrical) in charge of the generation and distribution on two LST vessels and he has great affection for the unsung heroes that played such an important role during the hostilities of WW2.

“Operation Dynamo” the evacuation from Dunkirk of the British Expeditionary Force between 27 May and 4 June 1940 that involved many privately owned small boats also clearly demonstrated to the Admiralty the need for ocean going ships in any future amphibious operations. Something considerably more substantial was needed than the landing craft so often depicted in war films. It highlighted the need to have ships capable of delivering substantial number of tanks, vehicles and troops direct to the shore and therefore had to have a shallow draught. In recognition of this and as an interim measure, three 4000 to 4800 tons tankers which had been built with shallow draughts to pass over restrictive sand bars in Venezuela were converted with new bow doors and loading ramps. These, then, became the first tank landing ships, the name being later altered into LST (Landing Ship, Tank). They proved their worth in the 1942 invasion of Algeria but their blunt bow made for inadequate speed and a sleeker hull design was sought. Both the Royal and the US Navies jointly designed the Mk 2 version which had to carry from 13 Churchill tanks up to thirty 3 ton tanks below deck, 15 lorries above plus up to 200 troops. Some could carry the Landing Crafts mentioned earlier. Vessels were also designed to become hospital ships and command centres fitted with radar and wireless. Production started in the USA where inland iron foundries on navigable rivers could quickly be converted into production.

In total 1150 LSTs were built, some 80 in the UK and Canada for use in future European and Pacific invasions. The British built versions were slightly larger, of hot riveted hull design making them capable of withstanding gale force weather, whereas some of the US welded hull design were known to have failed in heavy conditions. A shared important feature of both types, the brainchild of British designer, Sir Rowland Baker, was the provision of floodable side wall buoyancy tanks. This allowed for effective trimming of the ship with the bow needing a draught of only about four feet of water which enabled the beach approach to be made at speed with the bow doors open and ramp down.

The Normandy landings on D Day 6 June 1944 was the largest seaborne invasion in history and involved 311 LSTs with only three being lost. Most then spent the next month, doing 50 round trips carrying tanks, supplies and troops outbound and wounded troops and German POWs on the return. Both General Eisenhower and Field Marshall Alan Brooke (later Viscount Alanbrooke who lived during and post war in Hartley Wintney and is buried there) agreed that the LST was an essential element in the overall success of “Operation Overlord”, the code name for the Normandy campaign which had to be won to turn the tide of the war in the Allies’ favour. There was no Plan B!

News from Sherborne Shires

Editor's note: John Wilson is a longtime resident of Manor Road, Sherborne St John and he and his shire horses continue to give a huge amount of pleasure to all of us who see them being escorted through the village regularly. Doreen Turner helps John with the horses and sent me the photo and this news.

This photograph is of John Wilson, Silver and his handler and was taken by a friend of ours Tracy Muir who attended the show from Derbyshire.

John took his grey, Silver, to the National Shire Horse Society in Grantham in March. John has been attending the show for decades and has shown three shires in the decorated harness class. He has been very successful in the class winning 3 times with Yeoman and on March 22nd 2015 he was thrilled to get the red rosette for Silver who John has owned for 6 years. Silver also got a first in the single agricultural implement class and as you can imagine John is thrilled.

Personal Care Assistants Needed 3 x Part time Vacancies (Not a zero hour contract)

Can you help?

My Mum who has dementia and lives locally needs care from 7.30 am to 5.30 pm Monday to Friday; I need to recruit 3 wonderful carers who can cover the hours between them.

- Previous experience in a similar role is preferable but NOT essential, life experience is more important.
- You need to be a happy self-motivated and patient person who likes the challenge of changing your style to suit the client's needs, hopefully you love being with the elderly talking about the good old days, watching old movies and maybe even baking cakes !
- For being that important person in our lives I will provide a highly competitive salary, generous holiday entitlement, appropriate training, contracted confirmed hours and no bank holiday or weekend working.
- This post is subject to a criminal records check (D.B.S.)

Womens Fellowship

The April meeting was a Talk on The Newbury Coat, given by Mrs Jan Blight, a talk with some sentiment for her as it was the last Talk she was to give.

Mrs. Blight became a weaver, spinner and dyer, as a result of injuring her back from a riding accident, when she was a Dressage rider and trainer. She further developed her childhood interest in knitting following her accident, acquiring a knitting machine and entering a network of like-minded craftspeople. Living in Basingstoke at the time, she joined the Kennet Valley Guild in Newbury, in 1990, there being no such Guild in the Basingstoke area.

We were given the account of the first Newbury Coat, made in June 1811, near the present Newbury Racecourse, where the Greenham Mill stood, and from where cloth was produced.

The coat was made, rather bizarrely, as the result of a wager set by Sir John Throckmorton of Newbury when the owner of Greenham Mill, a Mr. Coxeter, boasted that the improvements in his machinery were so great that he could 'take the coat off Sir John's back, reduce it to its original wool and make the coat again.' Sir John Throckmorton had clearly given this some thought as, at a dinner party some time following this remark, Sir John Throckmorton wagered Mr. Coxeter a thousand guineas that he could not make a coat from beginning to end within daylight hours of one day. After some calculating, Mr. Coxeter agreed the wager and that, on the evening of June 25th, 1811, Sir John would be sitting down in the evening in his coat that had been made from 5.00 a.m. that morning. At that time, all wagers of this nature had to be recorded by law, which is why we have such detail of the event.

The coat was made and completed on the same day, June 25th, taking 13 hrs 27mins, from the sheep being shorn, the fleece spun, the cloth milled, washed, dried and dyed, and tailored into a coat. This coat is now in the National Trust property Coughton Court in Warwickshire, the home of the Throckmortons.

This was not the end of Mrs. Blight's talk, for an identical coat was made in September 1991 by the Kennet Valley Guild, of which Jan Blight played a major part. They decided that they should attempt to make a new identical coat, but would give themselves two days to produce it. They were taken to see the original, now 180 years old and dirty, scruffy and faded. They took spy-glasses to study the thread, seams and everything needed to produce an exact replica.

One of the members of the Guild, Amanda May, was a friend of the famous Johnny Morris and they asked him if he would model the coat. Amanda May would use her coat for him to try, which would give them the appropriate measurements. All was well until he tried the coat on, for there were two essential problems; Johnny Morris was a good deal shorter than Amanda May, and a good deal wider, plus the fact that fabric needs to be shrunk by 25%, and double the fabric used for the tails. In all, six miles of yarn were needed to make the coat!

So – at the Newbury Show in October 1990 a tent was erected and everything installed, including sheep and shears, to make the coat. It was all erected the day before and Mrs Blight was one of the Guild members staying overnight to ensure an uneventful, and early start the following morning.

There were many stumbling blocks in the making of this coat; the right time for shearing sheep is late May early June, and too much time would have elapsed for the fleece to stay in its proper condition. The length of the yarns had to be either 32 ½ or 3 1/8 yds so different techniques were needed to produce these lengths. The original coat appeared to be a 'dirty plum' colour, but the colour the Guild used was Indigo, the only cold-water dye used.

There were teams of spinners, weavers and dyers, washers and dryers, all working away to produce this coat. Not only did they achieve their goal in less than the two days predicted, but they achieved the finished product in 12hrs 36 minutes, a full hour faster than the original.

Jan Blight had many slides to show, which brought her talk alive and with explanations of how it was all done. In October 1991 they raised £16,000 for Charity, an amazing sum. In 1811 one hundred people were employed in the making of the original Newbury Coat, and in 1991 less than a hundred people were employed.

In 2011 the Kennet Valley Guild made a third coat, in a little over 14 hours. The 1991 Newbury Coat is held at the Newbury Museum.

Rose Cooper

Basingstoke Civil Service Retirement Fellowship

At the monthly meeting held on 1st April John Lambeth, the new Chairman, welcomed 55 members and 2 visitors.

Christine Broadbent gave her welfare report and Tony Brazier, the Secretary, reminded everyone of the trip on Thursday 21st May to Devizes and the Wadsworth Brewery Tour and the visit to Studley Grange and Lydiard Park on Friday 12th June.

This month's speaker was Ian Harrison who is chairman of the South of England Group of the Friends of the National Railway Museum. He charted the history of the Museum since its opening at York in 1975 by Prince Philip. Besides having engines and rolling stock on show it also has a large collection of art, books, models and operating equipment along with an oral archive. The Museum also has exhibits at Shildon, Swindon, Bressingham, the Science Museum in London and even one at Milestones here in Basingstoke. He outlined the work of the organisation which has raised over £1 million since 1976 and gave details of how his Group had raised £20,000 to restore the Winston Churchill (No.34051) which included sales of prints of a painting by Philip D Hawkins showing the engine hauling the Atlantic Coast Express at Battledown in 1960.

If you would like to join us on any of our trips please contact Kate Lambeth on 01256 328791.

At the next meeting on Wednesday 6th May Tony King will be speaking on "Things Aint What They Used to Be".

The group meets on the first Wednesday of each month at Brookvale Village Hall from 10 am – 12 noon and all retired Civil Servants and their partners are welcome. Further details about meetings can be obtained from the Secretary Tony Brazier on 01256 418770 or at bjmapbr@ntlworld.com

The Monk Sherborne and District Horticultural Society

It has been brought to my attention that some people are still unaware that there is no Show this August.

The Society has gone into a period of suspended animation for three years after a new committee and chairperson did not come forward to take over from current members who were resigning. The absence of help with the committee meant that the show's arrangements fell to a few people and we felt it impossible to continue.

So sadly there is no Monk Sherborne Horti Show this year.

However, the village hall committee of Monk Sherborne are staging a fete and informal show this September – (see details) - which we fully support so please look out for more details from them.

Kind regards
Kim Fleming

The Monk Sherborne Village Hall Committee are holding a village fete and informal horticultural show on September 12th 2015.

The emphasis is on “informal” - ie this is not like the Horti Soc Show with affiliation to RHS with its exact categories and rules - but much more on a fun basis. It will be held at the village hall in Monk Sherborne, where parking is rather restricted. Entries are for those in local villages and now extends to any current Horti Soc members. For more information please contact me directly on email uelsltd@aol.com

Grumpy Old Villagers !

Ever watched the programme “Grumpy old men/women”? Here I give you grumpy old villagers.

I'm quite sure that in your village, as in mine, at various driveway meetings or coffee get togethers there are certain issues that cause a unanimous grumble. We all comment on the traffic, the litter, the verges or things directly affecting our place of residence. Some issues make your blood boil, others are simply comical. What usually happens is likeminded people agree but nothing changes.

So this is a giant coffee morning, join in if you wish, skip it if it does not interest you.

I'm not actually old but I am often grumpy. I find inactivity frustrating. I believe in the power of a group to make changes as so often a man shouting alone is rarely heard. We are going to discuss various issues but hopefully effect some subtle changes.

Naturally, your first point of contact should be via your Parish council, possibly the police if necessary. However, for “trivial” gripes there is no common body. I am not suggesting we become village vigilantes for one minute. There are always ways to overcome things staying within the law, it simply requires a common objective and solidarity.

So, my grumble this month is the speeding traffic through our village. We have a “rat run” through our village and I can think of most neighbouring villages that have the same problem. If you try walking through Monk Sherborne for instance between 06:30-09:00 hrs and 15:00-18:00 be prepared to be mown down by someone late for work/ school pick up. There are no footpaths, cars regularly race through the village, drivers (particularly women I have noted) on their phones with no regard for the safety of others. Every time I turn out of my drive there is a car speeding up so close behind me, sometimes gesticulating as I got in its path. Last week a group of four elderly residents had just crossed the road to chat to each other when seconds later a speeding black Volkswagen Golf drove past. He would not have seen them, his speed was in excess of 40mph for sure, and he would have ploughed into and killed the four of them had he been five seconds earlier.

The Parish Council have launched an appeal for volunteers for the community speed watch, so far they have few volunteers. I urge you all to get signed up, we can stop this.

The local police do regular speed traps in certain areas, it does not seem to be working.

We can stop this, as a group. There are steps we can take if there are enough of us to make our village less of a rat run. Some research has provided some interesting solutions which involve no money. Simply villagers acting together. Simple steps such as parking your car on the road on certain days to make it slower and more difficult (but not to obstruct emergency vehicles) to those cutting through. Having nominated days for driving particularly slowly though your village, all within the law but very effective IF plenty of people join in.

So, this month is speeding. First point is to get involved in the speed watch campaign so contact your Parish Council, do it now, don't put it off. Next month I will give contact details to see what the interest is for taking some passive action to reclaim our quiet villages back from the ignorant dangerous drivers.

SILCHESTER PARISH CHURCH PRESENTS 'A VIENNESE SOIREE' BY FIVE VOICES IN AID OF THE BELLS RESTORATION FUND

If you love Strauss, Lehar, Offenbach and their contemporaries, then you will find this Concert delightful. Let us whisk you away, Harry Potter style, to a sparkling ballroom in Vienna, where you can enjoy an evening of sumptuous music. Laugh along with the 'Laughing Song' and 'Women, Women, Women'. Swoon to the 'Merry Widow Waltz, and 'Girls were made to Love and Kiss'. And join in the 'Drinking Song'. We float home along the 'Beautiful Blue Danube'.

Five Voices is a group of experienced singers and actors (Keith Lawrence, Maggie Lowe, Sam Murray, Heather Sims and Geoff Trim, with their pianist Michael Evans) who have been performing together for over ten years in the Thames Valley area and beyond. This will be another great evening.

Tickets are £10 (including a glass of wine or soft drink) and are available from

Ralph Atton (0118 970 0825) or Richard Fletcher (0118 970 0633)

Bert's Blog

Want to play ball? No? Ok, I will play on my own. I can you know, I can launch it in the air, chase, retrieve and pounce on it all on my own without any help. I have to do this when the Boss tires of playing and it amuses him to see me amusing myself. In fact they both, the Mrs and the Boss, stand in amazement watching me when I really get going. They only call a stop to it when the ball goes over next doors or I get too boisterous - last time this happened I had a little contretemps with the Mrs' washing and became entangled in the sheets drying on the washing line. I had lobbed the ball in the air but my aim was a bit off as it went straight into the washing. I started my search among the linen, knowing it was there somewhere and feeling terribly proud of eventually finding it within the folds. I then made the fatal error of not only plucking the ball from the volumes of white cotton but also the cotton itself which escaped from its pegs and came with me billowing behind like one of those white geese whilst I bounced around the garden intent on my game. I mistakenly thought the Mrs was joining in when she started chasing me around the garden but soon realised that not only was it not words of affection she was yelling but that she was trying to retrieve the sheet, not the ball. It turned out she wasn't too keen on playing the game after all and relieved me of my burden muttering incomprehensibly to herself - but magic is not dead in this house - the sheet appeared an hour later on the line again in pristine condition but I could not find my ball anywhere.....

Notes from Pamber Green and Pamber End

Following last month's column about the overgrown hedges alongside the A340, Jonathan Tinkler has emailed to say he is Footpath Secretary for the North Hampshire Downs group of The Ramblers and footpath representative for the Pamber Parish. Jonathan would like to know of any public footpath and waymarking problems in our parish at jonathan.tinkler@which.net or to HCC at <http://www3.hants.gov.uk/row/row-problemreporting.htm> However, roadside path problems are the responsibility of Hampshire County Council and can be reported at <http://www3.hants.gov.uk/selfservice/service557> select report tree and hedge problems.

In the March magazine the Priory School promoted the view that singing is good for you. I heartily agree and continue to love singing with both Tadley Singers and the Basingstoke Ladies Choir. They, together with the Basingstoke Male Voice Choir, are always looking for members. Contact details can be found online under Basingstoke Festival of Choirs or contact me. You will be able to hear singing in the malls on Saturday 6/6/15. Tadley Singers will be giving a concert in aid of a worthy charity on Saturday 27/6/15 at Pamber Heath Memorial Hall, 7.30pm. More details available next month but I can assure you it will be well worth attending and a most enjoyable evening. Make a date in your diary and support a good charitable cause.

Pamber resident Dia Ogborn sent me the following piece - "When you generously offered the readers of the "Villager" with free seeds from your collection I was reminded of our own garden and my seed collecting last summer. Over the years we have always envied friends whose gardens display the most wonderful delphiniums year after year where ours could only be described as "ordinary". Last year proved the exception with a display only bettered at Chelsea!!!! What was even more illuminating was the importance of good old "mother nature" in all things horticultural, for encircling the delphiniums was an "uninvited" family of foxgloves, providing the most eye-catching foil of deepest pink against the sapphire blue. It was a sight for sore eyes, so much so that I decided to collect and dry the seed pods, later scattering them along the hedgerows of Pamber Green. Hopefully some will decide to stay with us and give pleasure to others as they drive or walk through the village. I feel that we should offer a big vote of thanks to the many residents who have so generously planted up the hedgerows outside their homes with a variety of spring bulbs, primroses, snowdrops etc., making an even bigger splash of colour this year and contributing that feeling of pride we all share in living in such splendid countryside. This beauty comes at a price - sadly we must protect it from those thoughtless individuals, who left to their own devices, would have this green and pleasant land covered in a blanket of litter, the content of which sums up the sort of folk they are!" Hear, hear Dai and save some delphinium seeds for me please.

A visit is planned to Headley Gravel Pits near Ashford Hill on Thursday 14th May 2015 from 7.30pm to 9pm. This is one of the Hampshire and Isle of Wight Wildlife Trust's smaller reserves and will have on show the rare Green Winged Orchids which should be at their best in time for this visit. More details can be found at www.hiwwt.org.uk 'What's On'.

Don't forget the Pamber Parish Council AGM on 18th May 2015 and the chance to vote for your Parish Councillors on Thursday 7th May. In addition, elections for a Member of Parliament and Basingstoke and Deane Borough Councillors will also be taking place.

I am hoping next month to welcome an input from Pamber Green Cub Reporter, Jess Thain, a pupil at the Priory School who will give news of activities locally that she is interested in.

I am encouraged by the emails and feedback and items to include that I am now receiving. I appreciate it can be a bit daunting to come up with an idea to send (just think how daunting I find it when I have nothing!) so please keep up the good work and send me something. Any snippets of news or items of interest will be gratefully received so we can continue to spread news about the Pambers and from outside the Pambers.

Tadley and Pamber Neighbourhood Policing Team

Advice from PC Simon Wright

I am certainly not a financial adviser, but my policing bones would suggest that we are in for a period of financial scams! From April 2015 the rules surrounding pension funds changed and there are now more choices than ever before about how you can access your pension pot. Fraudsters are likely to take advantage of these new rules by trying to persuade people to cash in their pension - either the whole lot or a large sum - and hand the money over to them 'to invest'.

There are different types of pension scam but they can all lead to you losing a lifetime's worth of savings in a moment. You can be sure that if some of these unscrupulous characters think you've suddenly come into a sum of money, they will be keen to help you spend it!

Watch out particularly for people contacting you out of the blue or adverts claiming to offer free pension reviews or no-obligation consultations. Investment scams can look and sound believable, with smooth-talking salespeople, slick websites or sophisticated brochures and prospectuses. This can make it hard to tell them apart from genuine investment opportunities.

Not everyone is trying to defraud you or con you out of your money, but just be aware that if something seems to be too good to be true, it quite possibly is. Be on high alert and don't be afraid to say no or put the phone down!

If you've information about any crime, please call Crimestoppers on 0800 555111, or log on to www.crimestoppers-uk.org where you can also give information without anyone knowing who you are. Your call is free, no one will know you called and you may earn a cash reward. You can also follow me on twitter @HantsCrimestopp

The Sherbornes Ringers

On Easter Sunday afternoon, 5th April 2015, one of our youngest ringers made a successful first attempt at a quarter peal. Ringing on the five newly refurbished bells at All Saints, Monk Sherborne, Lauren Taylor rang 1,260 changes of Grandsire Doubles with her mother Miriam Taylor and Grandparents, Valerie and Ian Holdsworth plus Keith Gillings (who taught Lauren and her mum to ring). Not quite a family affair, but as near as we could get. Lauren, who is 12, has been ringing for over three years. The blisters healed quite quickly and the band is very proud of her. The quarter peal took 47 minutes to ring.

The band was:
Treble – Valerie Holdsworth
2nd – Miriam Taylor
3rd – Lauren Taylor
4th – Ian Holdsworth
Tenor – Keith Gillings

The bells of St Andrew's will be having an MOT at approximately 11 o'clock on the morning of 14 May 2015, together with the bells of St Stephen's, Baughurst. The bells will not be ringing but there may be some 'test blows' to check alignments of clappers etc, though not for long. It is over 50 years since they last had major work and the church needs to know their condition.

Divorce – It is more than just the Decree Absolute

There is more to divorce than just getting the Decree Absolute. If you are in any doubt then all you need to do is look at the situation green energy entrepreneur Dale Vince, the founder of Ecotricity, finds himself in following a Supreme Court judgement made this March (2015).

Mr Vince was in a relationship in the early 80's for a couple of years with Kathleen Wyatt. They married in late 1981, had a child in 1983 and separated in 1984 before finally divorcing in 1992. There was no financial order made in the divorce. During the period prior to their divorce Mr Vince was a traveller with no discernible income so he did not pay any maintenance to Mrs Wyatt.

Since then Mr Vince has founded Ecotricity and is now a multi-millionaire and in 2011, nearly 30 years after their relationship came to an end, Kathleen Wyatt lodged a claim for financial support. This is because there is no time limit set out in law for spouses to make these claims.

This highlights a couple of interesting things. There are many thousands of divorces in which financial orders were never finalised and these could still be open to contest; unless both parties have remarried. That means if you were divorced without a financial agreement being approved by a Judge this could be open to legal challenge. The majority of cases will have been approved by a Judge whether they were settled in court or via Collaborative Law or Mediation, any that have not been approved by a judge could be open to challenge however long ago the divorce was finalised.

This case also serves to remind all those considering Divorce or currently going through the process the importance of ensuring financial agreement is reached and approved as part of the process, which is the only way to be assured of how a legally binding outcome.

For more information about what the impact of the ruling may be for you and to ensure you have the correct agreement in place contact the Family Law Department here at Phillips by calling 01256 460830, email hayley.eachus@phillips-law.co.uk or visit www.phillips-law.co.uk.

ENGLAND

(Inspired by Alfred Lord Tennyson or William Blake, one or the other)

Oh to be in England now that spring is here
To wake and find each morning that the sun is shining clear.
Birds filling the air with singing and larks on the rise.
Spring at last arriving, what a surprise.

Oh to be in England now April has come.
Lambs gambolling in the fields, bees all a hum.
Daffodillies dancing on the verges green,
Apple blossom and cherry nand magnolias to be seen.

Oh to be in England when May comes marching in.
Gardeners busy planting, cornfields sprouting thin.
Winters chill behind us, summer waiting near,
Oh to be in ENGLAND, not here.
